Game Boards

Introduction: These are basic games that can be played with any deck of cards that you design. So once you design the deck of cards to target the skill you wish, you can put these simple games to use. Just use a small unit block/object for a game piece. The students will love them!

1. Snakes and Ladders—Students are to begin on space #1 and alternate drawing cards. Then they are to roll a die and move that number of spaces. If they land on a ladder, they are to move their game piece up to the top of the ladder on the game board. If they land on a snake, they are to slide their game piece down to the space to the tip of the snake's tail. The first player to reach space #30--the End wins.

2. Fill Up the Jar—Students can draw a card. Then they are to color one of the jelly beans in the jar. The first one to color all their jar wins.

3. Football Frenzy—Students draw a card. Then they move down each yard line until they score a touchdown for 6 points.

4. Give the Dog a Bone—Students are to draw a card. Then they are to move their game piece on the paws around the game board. The first one to get the dog into the dog house wins.

5. Blockbuster—Students draw a card. Then they are to draw a line from one dot to the next. The first player to draw the last line to form a box claims that box by writing their initials in it. The player who owns the most boxes in the end wins.
